

Up to this point we have been trying to grasp in minute detail the elementary moment in which the singularity of understanding/otherness comprehends itself as other from other. And although we will continue with that, we must simplify our diagrams. We intend this to be a steady process of symbolization where each succeeding group of diagrammatic ideas springs from, contains and thus symbolizes the earlier ones. This method seems to reflect that which we are trying to describe, inasmuch as the reality for each succeeding moment is that it is constituted by all preceding moments while the actuality is that it's the elementary moment which contains all those moments that apparently 'succeed' each other.

Now we must start to discover how tri-verses of understanding might form the basis of and alter-verse including our own universe.

Let us symbolise the helicoil of understanding as lines of realization. In these diagrams, the three differently coloured lines trace the elementary moment.

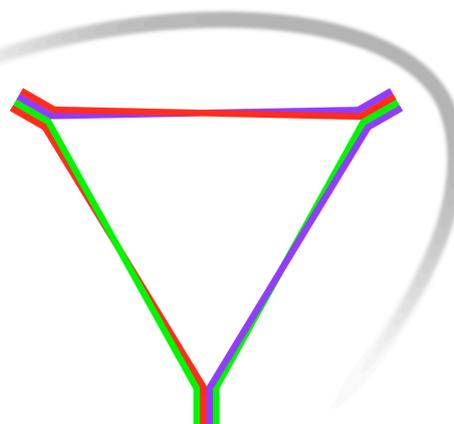

Where the three lines converge in each moment, there is always a red-green-violet 'triangle of understanding' formed by their crossing. which we can use to symbolise the whole. We can see that the lines of understanding no longer spiral down but are now a braid or pleat of three.

It matters not how many moments of spacetime reality appear to pass for the constituents of the tri-verse, they are all the instantaneous accumulative reiteration of the elementary moment and are thus contained in the singularity of understanding as a single moment. [Of which under-standing is the mode, otherness the currency, and com-prehending the manifestation.] All is now symbolised as the triangular form below.

Note that the outermost brackets of com-prehending are now the outermost lines of at the apexes, and that they extend to be-come the inner lines at the other apexes. This is to symbolise that at each moment, each is always be-coming a constituent of the others' com-prehendings.

this is symbolized by this

tri-verse of under-standing